CARRIER LOGISTICS INC. ANNOUNCES USER GROUP CONFERENCE IN CHICAGO, OCT. 4-5, 2018

Attendees will hear from industry experts and enjoy networking sessions for a rewarding experience

Chicago, Ill. -- Carrier Logistics Inc. (CLI), a leading transportation software developer for the less-than-truckload and multi-stop transportation industry, will hold its annual User Group Conference at the Hotel Chicago Downtown, 333 N. Dearborn, Chicago, Ill., Oct. 4-5, 2018. With a focus on "Driving Results," CLI expects to feature industry thought leaders from within the company and across the industry to give innovative educational presentations.

The conference will incorporate sessions devoted to the functionality of FACTS, CLI's highly-regarded transportation management system offered throughout the world with a focus on both administration and operations. The meeting will also include engaging tips and how-tos, hands-on labs, new module introductions, a supplier showcase, expert-led industry seminars and networking receptions.

"There is a plethora of technological buzzwords floating around, but new technologies and cutting-edge functionalities must all positively affect your company's growth. At this conference, we'll examine how successful transportation companies are using these innovations to drive results and, more importantly, how they are measuring the success of these initiatives," said Ben Wiesen, vice president, products and services at CLI.

Attendance at the conference is free to all CLI customers. The registration fee for non-customer transportation companies will be $595.
